As a health care consumer, you have the right to:

YOUR RIGHTS

Choice of Service Providers – Choose or change your provider from among the UHS staff of qualified health care professionals.

Considerate and Respectful Care – Have your individual dignity respected regardless of age, gender identity, race, ethnicity, national origin, culture, sexual orientation, class, physical ability, genetic information, position in the community, lifestyle or other personal attributes.

Confidentiality and Privacy – Expect confidential treatment of all communications and records relating to you. Except as provided by law, your written permission must be obtained before information is given to anyone not directly connected with your care. Before you consent to a release of information, you may discuss what information will be released. You have the right to receive a written “Notice of Privacy Practices” that explains how your protected health information will be used and disclosed.

Interpreter Service – Request the services of an interpreter if needed, at no cost to you.

Know Your Fees – Be informed of fees incurred during your visit and of payment policies.

Patient Attendant Service – Patient attendants are UHS staff members who accompany you during sensitive exams for comfort and support. You have the right to opt out of having a patient attendant during sensitive exams or procedures. You also have the right to request one for non-sensitive exams.

Responsive Service – Expect a timely response to any reasonable requests made for service. However, you do not have the right to insist on inappropriate or medically unnecessary treatment or services.

Records Access – Have access to information contained in the records within a reasonable time frame, except in certain circumstances specified by law.

Understanding – Be an active participant in decisions regarding your health. You have the right to understand, and to request information about, the following:

- University Health Services policies.
- The name and title of the person providing service to you.
- What tests are being recommended and why.
- The prospects for resolution of your problem, and how this problem might be prevented in the future.
- What treatment and/or medication is recommended, its known side effects and known significant risks.
- Alternate courses of treatment or non-treatment, and the side effects and significant risks associated with each.
- The OpenNotes law and what it means for those you allow to access your health records electronically (e.g., your parents, spouse, or partner).
- Confidential Communications (per the health code of the State of California, you may restrict what information your insurance carrier shares with the primary holder of your health insurance, for example, if you are a dependent on your spouse’s or parent’s plan).
- Restricting the method by which your insurance carrier contacts you and/or provides information to you.
- Advance Directive – you may complete and add an advance directive to your health record, according to the probate code of the state of California.
- The California End of Life Option Act (AB2-15 (AB-15))
- Your right to refuse participation in any research projects being conducted at UHS.
- How to express concerns to the organization, either through UHS procedures or through campus resources.

As a health care consumer, you have the responsibility to:

YOUR RESPONSIBILITIES

Answer Questions Fully – To the best of your ability, provide accurate and complete information to your health care providers about any matters pertaining to your health, any medications (including over-the-counter products and dietary supplements) and any allergies or sensitivities. If it is not clear to you why certain information is relevant, please ask.

Make Sure You Understand – Confirm your access needs and understanding of services discussed and provided. Ask your healthcare provider about anything that is not clear, such as a diagnosis, treatment plan, test or policy. Diagnosis and treatment are often very individualized. Your symptoms may require the practitioner to differentiate between several diagnoses, or you may have to try more than one treatment plan to resolve your problem.

Be Open – Discuss how you feel about your visit - anything from your treatment to your ability to pay fees.

Follow the Agreed Upon Treatment Plan – Advise us whether you think you can, and want to, follow the agreed-upon treatment plan. The most effective plan is the one which all participants agree is the best and which is carried out exactly. If you choose to refuse or to not comply with the instructions given to you by your healthcare provider, you will need to accept the consequences of these decisions and actions.

Inform – Notify your health care provider about any living will, medical power of attorney, or other directive that could affect your care.

Report Changes – Tell us about any changes in your health or adverse effects of your treatment, or if your symptoms don’t improve. Also tell us about changes in your schedule, and let us know at least 24 hours in advance if you cannot make an appointment.

Know Your Health Care Providers – Try to know and remember the names of the people who serve you. We encourage continuity of care and will do our best to make this an easy task.

Respect Your Fellow Patients, UHS Staff and the Facility – Show respect for the rights and property of your fellow patients and UHS staff by according them the dignity and courtesy that you expect to receive. Be considerate of the facilities and equipment. This includes responsibility for adhering to infection control policies and procedures with staff and within the facility.

Arrange Transportation – If required by your health care provider, provide a responsible person to transport you home from the facility and remain with you for 24 hours.

Pay Your Fees – Pay fees on the day of your service or make payment arrangements with the UHS Cashier’s Office to assure your financial obligations for your health care are fulfilled.

Maximize Healthy Habits – Take responsibility for your health by maximizing healthy habits such as exercising, eating a healthy diet and not smoking.
