MAKE AN EVACUATION PLAN

Shutoffs happen during high fire danger conditions. You could need to evacuate when the power is out. Have a go-bag and evacuation plan. Learn what to do at cityofberkeley.info/wildfirevacuation.

STAY SAFE DURING A POWER SHUTOFF

PRACTICE FIRE SAFETY

Power shutoffs happen during high fire danger conditions. When the power is out, practice critical fire safety measures:

- Don't burn anything, including candles
- Don't idle your car in the hills
- Don't use any heat producing tools or machines such as lawn mowers
- If you have a generator, only use it if you know how to operate it safely

EVACUATE IF YOU FEEL THREATENED

If you feel threatened, leave immediately. Do not wait for an evacuation order. Consider evacuating on your own if you experience any of the following:

- Visible fire in an adjacent home or in a home close by with strong winds
- Strong winds carrying smoke or embers through your neighborhood

REPORT DANGEROUS CONDITIONS

Call our 311 Customer Service line at (510) 981-2489 to report any dangerous conditions.

KEEP ROADS AND SIDEWALKS CLEAR

Keep roads and sidewalks in the hills clear so that our police and firefighters can get through. Do not double park, and don't park:

- at red curbs
- in posted tow-away zones
- in posted no parking area
- within 15' of fire hydrants
- within 15' of fire station driveways

DRIVE CAREFULLY

Use caution when driving during power outages.

- Approach intersections slowly
- Look closely for pedestrians and bicyclists
- Treat inactive power signals as a four-way stop

CHARGING AND WIFI ACCESS

During a power shutoff, you can get information and charge your devices at Berkeley Public Library locations during regular hours.
